DID YOU KNOW THIS?

- Martin Luther issued the “Disputation of Martin Luther on the Power and Efficacy of Indulgences” that became known as his “95 Theses” in Wittenberg on Oct. 31, 1517.
- Thanks to the invention of the Printing Press, Luther’s words and actions “went viral”. Martin Luther and his allies used the new media and circulated their thoughts to promote their message. Of course, the ability to print quickly and in large quantities was also used by Luther’s detractors.
- Following the practice of naming a “heresy” after its leader, the name “Lutheran” originated as a derogatory term during the Leipzig Debate in July 1519. Rather than “Lutheran,” Martin Luther preferred to describe the Reformation as “evangelical,” which is derived from the Greek word meaning “good news.”
- Generally speaking Lutheran teaching can be summed up by “The Solas”: Scripture Alone, Christ Alone, Grace Alone, and Faith Alone.
- The split between the Lutherans and the Roman Catholics began with the Edict of Worms in 1521, which officially excommunicated Luther and all of his followers.
- Luther’s Small Catechism was published in 1529 for the teaching of children at home by their parents. The Large Catechism consisted of works addressed particularly to clergy to aid them in teaching their congregations.
- The Book of Concord or “Concordia” (1580) contains documents that explain what Lutherans believe. It includes the three creeds of the ancient church and Reformation writings, and the Formula of Concord.
- Lutherans believe in “Salvation by grace through faith” — that salvation comes by grace through faith alone, not by works.

- Philipp Melanchthon (1497 — 1560), was one of the primary founders of Lutheranism. Born Philipp Schwartzertdt, he translated his name to its Greek form: Melanchthon. He made the distinction between Law and Gospel the central formula for Lutheran evangelical insight.
- The first Lutheran worship service in North America is believed to have taken place in what is now known as Manitoba on Jan. 23, 1620. The sermon was delivered by Pastor Rasmus Jensen.
- Massive immigration from traditionally Lutheran countries to the United States between 1840 and 1875 resulted in 58 Lutheran synods being formed.
- German Lutheran Pastor Henry Muhlenberg was sent to North America as a missionary upon the request of Pennsylvania colonists. He is considered the patriarch of American Lutheranism.
- As late as the 19th century, Lutherans in the United States still looked to their European homelands to supply pastors and worship materials.
- According to Luther, every baptized person is a “born-again” Christian. Therefore, Luther told his people, start living that way!
- We cannot believe on our own, Luther said, it takes God’s Holy Spirit to give us faith.
- Good works transpire without our willing them, like a good tree cannot help but bear good fruit. Faith is such a busy thing, Luther added, that it is impossible for the faithful person not to be doing good works.
- Luther called the church ‘hospital for sinners’ - “the church is only for sick people like us”.
- Although Luther almost always spoke to God as male, at times he referred to God as ‘mother’, emphasizing the fullness of God’s care.
- Luther taught that non-Christians at time act more Christ-like than believers.
- At times Luther referred to the Trinity as the mind, intellect and will of God.
- Luther was open to maintaining the papacy if the Pope would acknowledge that sinners have free forgiveness without works and submit fully to Scripture alone.
